All New Orleans is prepared to welcome MARIAN ANDERSON when she appears in concert Monday night at the MUNICIPAL AUDITORIUM. From all walks of life, with the single idea in mind to be listening when “The Greatest Living Singer” lifts her voice in song, thousands of New Orleans citizens are expected to pack the auditorium to pay tribute to Miss Anderson Monday night. The famous singer arrives Monday morning.

Tickets are selling like “hot cakes” for the concert and the public is urged to purchase tickets NOW, when choice seats can be obtained.

Marian Anderson needs little or no introduction to the public. She is the most famous singer of the age. Her voice has been heard in Carnegie Hall many times. She has sung in the principal music halls of Europe. New Orleans music lovers have heard her several times on the Ford Sunday Hour, a National network program. Miss Anderson is probably the highest paid vocalist now appearing in concert. A contralto, Marian Anderson in accompanied by Kosti Vehanen (white) from Abo, Finland.
